These initials were for thirty years the familiar trademark of our beloved late principal, Mr. Louis Charles Wendt. This trademark was feared by some, anticipated by others, and respected by all.

Mr. Wendt was a very rabid fan of all Oiler teams, giving preference to baseball, the favorite of his own school days. When not boosting the Oilers or working at school, he could most likely be found exercising his green thumb in his back yard. He loved to watch things grow, whether plants or humans.

Jud, as he was known to the students, was very active in the city. He was a member of Kiwanis and was honored last year for perfect attendance over an eighteen year stretch. It is with great appreciation of things received of Mr. Wendt, that we dedicate the 1955 Detrick to him.

The magic of the camera records people, places, and events familiar to us all . . . study hall, Rhythm Ramblers, Bunny Hop, mixers, and clean-up.

Through the years we go to games, get dressed up, and satisfy our appetites, but this year there were some new twists. The Board of Education footed the bill for our bus trips to away basketball games; the Bermuda shorts craze among boys and girls raised eyebrows and cuffs; homemade punch, cake, and cookies were served at parties.

Foreword

The '55 Derrick . . . based upon the many memories of the school year . . . put together for the purpose of bringing back those memories in later years.

Your first day in school . . . just a scared kid out of seventh grade. The time you got called into the principal's office for throwing snowballs. The six notes you got from that cute blonde that lockers across the hall. The hilarious shouts of victory . . . the bitter gloom of defeat at the athletic arenas. The time you almost blew the north wall off the chemistry lab. The test that felt like an F when you were writing it. The small brown peanut you had to push the length of the lower hall with your nose to get into that club with all the wheels . . . and how surprised you were when you found out it was worth it. Your first Y-Teen Prom. Your last Senior Prom. Graduation.

When the events of your high school days grow dim and appear to drop out of focus, the MPHS yearbook staff hopes you can refresh your memory by leafing through the pages of the 1955 Derrick and there find the friends who shared . . . and helped make the start of a memory.

High School Is A Memory

Proms, Sales, Projects . . . Things of Which

Where do you find the prettiest girls on the arms of the best-dressed young men? Why, the annual Senior Prom, of course. Mt. Pleasant is no exception when our young couples arrive at Keeler Union ballroom for the last big formal.

Memories Are Made

There is nothing quite like being a high school senior. In years to come you will look back on all your hard work and think of all the fun you had doing it.

This year the seniors earned money for their trip by sponsoring a chili dinner and selling Christmas trees at the Pixie lot. They huddled about heaters between sales, netted $650.

On the annual Government Day, kids swarmed through "Mayor" Jerry Child's office in their roles as commissioners, firemen, police, and reporters.

Senior Cruise to Chicago Has Its Ups 'n Downs

Seasickness was the predominant factor of this year's senior trip. The first night of the trip, spent on a boat on Lake Michigan between Holland, Michigan and Chicago, Illinois was one of the roughest the captain and his crew had seen for a long time. There was to be a boat party that night, but so few were able to attend that it had to be postponed. Breakfast the next morning found many of the passengers unable to eat.

There were sight-seeing tours the next day which took in the Museum of Science and Industry, one of the most interesting sights of the day. Lunch was at the Congress Hotel. Then there was a free afternoon, in which they could do whatever they wanted. Several went shopping or to shows. After dinner back at the hotel there was another tour which went through Chinatown. Here, many people bought hats and souvenirs to take home.

That night was much calmer, as the lake was calmer, and they finally got to have their boat party.

The next morning the boat docked in Chicago and there the students waited for the buses that would take them home to Mt. Pleasant.

Baccalaureate

One hundred forty one seniors attended the first stage of their graduation, Baccalaureate, June 5, in the high school auditorium. Following the opening prayer, the choir sang "Incline Thine Ear" and "Oh My God, Our Help in Ages Past." A fine sermon was then given by Rev. G. Edgar Schade of the West Side Tabernacle Church.

Rehearsals, Greasepaint and—"My Three Angels"

When the curtain opened on the senior play, April 4, the audience stepped into a living room back of a general store in Cayenne, French Guiana. There they laughed at the antics of three convicts (above) who kept shop, cooked, "balanced" the books, paired up lovers, and even disposed of a villain. Directed by Miss Gwen Loveday, "My Three Angels" is shown in rehearsal at right.

And here's the cast after taking their curtain calls. Standing: Gary Mullet, Loren Eldred, and Dave Randolph as the three convicts, Sylvia Wendrow as Mme. Parole, and Bill Fitzgerald as Henri Trochard. Seated: Sandra Howard as Emilie Ducotel, Paul Dean as Felix Ducotel, and Connie Erler as their daughter, Marie Louise. Butch Thorpe played Paul, and Milton Marks was the Navy lieutenant.

Remember Our Last Day

GLORIA A. ZYGMUNT
"Hair of gold, eyes of blue."

Twenty-seven years of service as librarian and English teacher in this school came to a close this spring with the retirement of Miss Sadie Juliet Woodruff.

In her years before coming to M.P.H.S. she attended the University of Michigan where she received her A.B., B.S., and M.A. degrees. She spent one summer at Columbia and one at Northwestern. While at Michigan Normal she got her Life Certificate.

Her teaching career started in a rural school near her home town of Kendallville, Indiana.

The student body, faculty, and people will never forget the help she has given to them in her 26 years here.

High school's fun, these eighth grade homemaking girls decide as they model clothes designed and created in class. It's fun, too, to join the audience and watch the others.

A STRONGER NATION VOTE YES

One of the most controversial issues in modern Mt. Pleasant times ended Nov. 23, 1954, as the city's citizens voted to erect a new high school. In four previous attempts, the proposal was defeated at the polls. The fifth ballot carried by a surprisingly decisive 2-1 margin. Out of 2348 votes cast, 1513 were for the new school. Negatives numbered 835.

The new school is being built on the southwest site, which received 1447 of the votes cast for the building's location. Bonds secured in the amount of $1,500,000 will probably be paid off in 14 years.

In campaigning for the school, civic groups openly gave support. Full page ads listing hundreds of boosters were run in the Daily Times-News by the businessmen of Mt. Pleasant. A number of articles entitled "Your Schools" were also run. A film strip, "So Many Children", showing actual classroom conditions in the city's schools pointed out the real need for more space.

Even the students got in on the act. The day before the clinching vote, a parade consisting of the high school band, college band, and floats made by high school students made its way through downtown Mt. Pleasant. Marching high school and elementary students carried posters urging a "Yes" vote for better education.

Perhaps one reason why the bond issue was not passed on an earlier ballot was the arguing on the choice of sites. This situation prompted one man to say that "If we haggle over sites, we'll never get a school. We need a new school no matter where it's built."

A victory dance was held at the MPHS gym the night following the fifth ballot. Mr. John Wiley, assistant principal, rang the bell atop the present high school at 10 o'clock in honor of our late principal, L. C. Wendt. Mr. Wendt vowed that he would personally climb up and ring it if we ever got a new school.

So the building that was but a year ago just a dream to students, faculty, and civic-minded citizens, is now rising skyward. The new school . . . a monument to those who fought for it . . . an institution to prepare tomorrow's citizens for tomorrow's world.

Every Man in Every Play . . .

Oilers Tie for Conference Championship

Entering the '53 season as Class B State Champions in football, the '54 Oilers began right where they had left off. With a winning streak of eight straight to improve on, they won six in a row and had a two year record of 14 consecutive victories. Before their let down, they had held the top spot in virtually all the ratings. Despite their two losses at the closing of the season, the Oilers were still able to roll up 155 points compared to their opponents' 40. Proof of their defensive power is shown by the scores of the other teams as Mt. Pleasant held them to an average of five points a game.

Along with some of the misery of the '54 season there were also many highlights. One of the brightest moments for the Oilers was the East Lansing game when Bud Holtz returned the second half kickoff 74 yards for the Oilers' second TD of the evening. Another time at East Lansing it was Holtz again, this time with an intercepted pass good for an 80 yard six pointer. The East Lansing game also proved to have some thrills. This was the game when junior fullback Jerry Hammond scored three TD's, one of which came on an exciting 75 yard run. Although there weren't any terribly long runs for the Oilers in the Big Rapids game, it was thrill after thrill, mostly supplied by Roger Frayre's consistent gains on end sweeps.

There were two stories connected with the '54 season, the worst being the loss of ace quarterback Jerry Wiley because of a knee injury. Also unforgettable is the Saginaw St. Andrew's game when the Figgmen lost five of five fumbles.

Despite their ~~loss~~ loss to Marquette, the Oilers were still able to tie for first in the conference. Along with this honor, four individuals were placed on the All-Conference first team. These were guard Ted Foley, center Nathan Thorne, fullback Mike Sweeney, and tackle Dave Randolph. Guard Wesley Welsh and Bill Finch were named to the second team. Sweeney and Thorne were also named to numerous All-State teams and Foley and Randolph received honorable mention.

Under the watchful eye of Coach Fred Goodell, the Wildcats compiled an impressive record of 4 wins and 2 losses. Both of the defeats came from Class A teams Midland and Bay City Handy. The Cats, whose home site is Fancher Field, were handicapped by their lack of size. The line was where size was lacking and they had to depend on their speed and aggressiveness. The backs who were Phil Harris, Jack Long, and Ray Kullman were also very fast and should bolster the varsity backfield next year.

A real coming team. That is the freshman squad, coached by Tom Dezelsky. This year they compiled the best freshman record in the school history, racking up a perfect record of 6 wins. The squad should boast many more wins before their graduation. They have the size and speed for a highly respected team. With such standout players as linemen Click Ervin and Eddie Walker along with a backfield of Hank Pety, Bob Lovejoy, Geoff Nelson and Larry Stinson they are a team that should gather in many more victories in the future.

The '55 cross country team finished out the season as they placed twelfth in the State meet. Although it was not a particularly high finish, the team had only one senior and the chances for improvement next year are good.

In the conference meet, Coach Calvin Miller's boys placed second and in the regional meet they also took runner-up honors. In both meets it was Alma whom they trailed.

Pacing this year's squad was senior Loren E. Fred who took first place in the regional and conference and placed seventh at the State meet.

Oilers Gain Runner-Up Spot in NCM Conference And Move to Quarter-Finals in State Tournaments

Basketball

For the second straight year the Oiler cagers managed to lose only three games during the entire season. In conference competition it was the same old story with the local squad again runner-up to Ludington. In regular season play the Oilers' only two defeats came at the hands of the Ludington Orioles.

In tournaments the Oilers really went on the rampage. They defeated Big Rapids in the District Finals and eliminated a powerful West Branch five in the Regional Finals. This game was probably the highlight of the season as the Oilers ran completely over the West Branch five who had seen only one previous defeat during the season.

In the quarterfinals the problem of not hitting proved fatal and the Oilers were eliminated by the powerful Negaunee squad.

Individual honors were bestowed upon Bud Foltz, Jerry Wiley, and Mike Sweeney as all three were named to the All-Conference squad. Sweeney was also named on one of the Detroit Free Press All-State teams.

Varsity Material On the Way Up

In an unprecedented move, the Wildkitten's complete starting five composed of forwards Larry Stinson and Jerry Hickman, center Willie Hinzman, and guards Hank Pety and Eddie Walker were moved up to the second team at midseason. These five boys led the frosh cagers down a path of nine straight victories paved by lopsided scores before their promotion. After they left, the remaining cagers split in their final four games, losing two by close margins to hang up an impressive 11-wins and 2-losses mark for the season.

In January three strings of frosh beat Clare into submission, setting a school scoring record at Pullen gym. Final score: Mt. Pleasant 85 - Clare 27.

Working together for the first time in their beginning careers as basketball men at MPHS, the eighth graders won all six of their games with out-of-town opponents.

Champions of the Big Rapids Tournament and finishing second in the City eighth grade league played on Saturdays, Coach Al Drath's team should provide strength in coming years for Mt. Pleasant.

Performing before the varsity basketball games, the Mt. Pleasant Wildcat squad failed to break even, which was sort of a rarity.

Posting 7 wins and 9 defeats, Coach Lornie Kerr's J.V.'s gained experience for the future, when they will carry the Oiler colors into battle on the hardwood court.

Victory Was Shared By All

Dick Wood's noonhour basketball team raced through the regular season and post season tournament undefeated, except for two exhibition losses to the faculty, on their way to the noon-hour championship.

An all-star team picked from the remaining five teams in the league edged Wood's squad 24-22 in the All-Star game which attracted wide student interest.

Wood's team placed two men on the All-Noon Hour basketball team. Bill Fipple and Dick Wood. Other players making the honor squad were Dan Bucklev, Phil Chipman and Paul Heydenburg.

The six-team league was made up of Mayberry's team, Chipman's team, Stahl's team, McFarlane's team, Randolph's team, and the champs, Wood's team. Squads this year had only the name of their team captains for titles.

Varsity cagers Bud Foltz and Butch Thorpe refereed all noon hour contests. Attendance at most noon hour games was low as spectators watched from the balcony overlooking the gym.

Spring Teams Win NCM Crowns

For Coach Fred Goodell's thinclads the '55 season was very profitable. Starting with a win in the big indoor meet they went on to win all their dual meets and sweep the conference and regional.

Led by Dave Myers, state 220 champion, and hurdler Jerry Wiley, they captured fourth place at the state meet.

Besides the team's fine overall showing they accounted for the breaking of four school records. Myers broke the 440 record, tied the century mark, and ran anchor on the record-breaking 880 relay team. Jerry Wiley also cracked the low hurdle record.

The '55 tennis team was more deserving than its record of six wins and five losses showed. Behind the coaching of Dave Gover, the Oilers won the conference championship for the first time. They had champs in both the singles — Chuck Scribner — and doubles — Mike Sweeney and Roger Frayre.

In the regional the racketmen wound up second behind a powerful East Lansing group. Sweeney and Scribner were regional doubles champs and went to the state semi-finals. This fine showing enabled the team to tie for an overall fourth at state.

Graduation saw Coach Gover's top three leave.

Oiler golfers stroked their way through the '55 season with the best record of any MPHS golf team, winning nine of ten dual meets against one loss to strong "A" Midland.

Led by Tom Horton with an 80 and Gene McAlester with 78, they took runners-up honors in the regional meet May 14 at the local club. A long-hitting sophomore, Mac claimed medalist honors.

The following Saturday at Kalamazoo, Coach Bobb Wardrop's shotmakers stumbled to a disappointing tenth in the state championship. They did hold together to win the conference meet at Manistee. Scores soared as the golfers battled the tremendous wind off Lake Michigan.

During the season two rounds of 76 by McAlester and Horton set new school records.

We Strive Hard Together

Adding pep to MPHS sports activities are the varsity cheerleaders and the Varsity Club.

Cheering their team on to victory although many times they doubted if the weather would permit, the cheerleaders went to every game of the season.

Bowling Winners

A very active club this year, the Girls' Athletic Association has had two intramural play days, one at Midland and one at the Central Michigan College Fieldhouse. The club has played basketball, speedball, volleyball, and softball, and they have bowled at the Chippewa Bowling Lanes. The club officers were: President, Marketh Moses, Vice President, Liz Sweeney, Treasurer, LaFern Lucas, and Secretary, Betty Elkins. The club adviser was Miss Vera Williams.

Baseball Team Wins Invitational Tournament

The Mt. Pleasant Oilers again this year showed diamond strength through the area with a 12-2 tally.

Winners of their own invitational tournament, Mt. Pleasant knocked off West Branch and Gladwin to reach the finals and defeat Bay City St. Stan's.

We Sing Our Clubs' Praises . . .

The Student Council, headed by President Sandra Howard, had a full year with selling over 500 activity tickets, their 13th annual homecoming, the assembly program, organizing bus trips to the games, "Up" and "Down" stairways, a plaque for boys who gave their lives in World War II, and other projects.

Lending a hand to President Sandy were Sylvia Wendrow, vice-president; Nancy Fleming, secretary; Connie Erler, treasurer, and advisers Mrs. May Lance and Mr. John Wiley. The biggest project of the year was the establishment of the Student Court.

Student Council Establishes a Student Court

The Student Court was the Student Council's most ambitious project in several years. The purpose of the court is to try cases in which students break school rules, to punish such students, and to enforce the rules.

Typical cases were fights in the halls or classrooms, misconduct in the cafeteria, and one case of a boy knocking a girl down.

The court has met with the students' approval.

Bill Finch was voted judge, assisted by Carol Brewster as assistant judge, Butch Thorpe as prosecuting attorney, and Jo Elliott as clerk.

We Expressed Ourselves . . .

"Gramercy Ghost" was selected by the Dramatics Club to be presented to the public at the beginning of the year. The club then elected as their officers Sue Morrow, president; Judy Cox, vice president; Carolyn Osborn, secretary, and Pam Wakefield, treasurer.

To increase the treasury, the club had sales after school and sponsored mixers. At the weekly meetings the members saw demonstrations on how to apply make-up for various characters, the handling of stage equipment, and student directing.

In April the actors presented an all-school assembly consisting of two one-act plays. One called "Ladies of the Mop" was entered in the one-act festival at Central Michigan College in the spring.

... in Greasepaint

The Thespians, a dramatics honor society, initiated six new members into the club this year. To be in the club a person must have ten points which are obtained through the Dramatics Club work. Thespians work hand in hand with the club and help with their plays.

Mr. David Gover's five new debaters had a very unsuccessful year. With little experience, they met Tawas Area, Big Rapids, Ionia, and Gladwin. The team debated eight times and lost them all. They also participated in the State League.

"No Room in the Inn" was the one-act play presented by the Y-Teens at the Christmas assembly just before vacation. In to the story of a woman and her daughter who had no place to spend Christmas Eve were woven carols and the Christmas spirit.

We Filled the School With March Music And Paraded in Flashy New Uniforms

After the marching season the band began to prepare for the concert season. Some of the things this included were the district band festival and the winter concert. Rex Hewlett's students also played in the state band festival in the second division competing for the first time in class A. Next was the district solo and ensemble festival where, out of 21 entries MPHS bandmen received 11 first, and eight seconds. Of the 10 firsts who went on to state six received firsts and four got seconds.

We Helped Run Our School . . .

These boys instructed by Mr. Arnold Koch presented the essential facts to many classes through movies and also were in charge of the noon hour films, showing such outstanding movies as "Jim Thorpe, All-American."

The many duties which are necessary to keep the principal's office functioning, such as collecting absence slips, answering the telephone, recording grades, maintaining files, running errands and typing letters, are the jobs undertaken by these girls.

Besides attempting to keep the halls quiet the monitors provide information and act as guides for the many visitors at Mt. Pleasant High School.

... in an Efficient Way

Have you received any notices for overdue books? This — plus checking books in and out, maintaining neat shelves and keeping the volumes in top shape — is the job of these Library Club members. They are under the direction of Miss Sadie Woodruff.

Mr. Pleasant High School students attending paid assemblies, plays, and the annual Pop's Concert were greeted by these members of the Ushers Club advised by Mrs. Mary Lou Evett.

The hot lunch line, a necessity in every school, serves the food, prepares dishes for washing and keeps the lunch room neat. The girls work with Mrs. Arnold Koch.

Journalists Record An Eventful Year

This year's journalism staff began their year's activities by preparing the 13th annual homecoming program for publication. Gathering advertisements, arranging pictures and writing copy under the pictures initiated the '54 journalists into their year's duties.

Next they undertook the year-long task of turning out the STUDE every two weeks. Special issues of this year's school paper featured a "Fieldhouse Edition", based upon the huge CMC athletic plant, and the "April Fool" issue.

The journalism staff traveled to the Michigan State College campus in the fall to attend a state-wide high school conference on school papers and yearbooks. The newly enlightened staff was caught posing around "Spatty", MSU's symbolic statue by a passing camera bug.

Perhaps the major project of this year's staff was to turn out the DERRICK. The yearbook staff worked with a new printer this year and injected many startling changes into the 1955 version of the DERRICK. Picture advertisements, modern art, complete coverage of spring sports, along with late senior activities and an August autographing party formed the new look in DERRICK memories.

Popular at Mt. Pleasant High School for 12 years (formerly Girl Reserves), the Y-Teens organization enjoyed a successful and prosperous year. President Judy Hall was chairman of the annual Prom, which had "March Madness" as its theme. Always a highlight of the social season, the dance was held at Keeler Union ballroom. Earlier in the year, the girls' mothers were guests at the formal initiation held October 20 and the informal initiation October 13. To show how varied are their activities, the girls pitched in to build a float that took first prize of $10 in the 13th Annual Homecoming parade. Mrs. May Lance is a adviser for this largest of girls' groups at MPHS.

Absent from the high school for two years, the Hi-Y Club returned under President Butch Thorpe and all new members to continue its 33-year record of service and friendship. Rolling peanuts down the hall floors, wearing their clothes backwards, and treading a "treat" of raw eggs (which turned out to be wet marshmallows) will always be remembered by the new club members who underwent a lively initiation. The group gave a Christmas basket and staged a very talented pep assembly featuring Mrs. Butterfly and her girls dancing a can-can to the tune, "Papa Loves Mambo." Helping plan the next event, a talent show in April, were Bill Finch, vice president, Loren Eddred, secretary, and Jim Woods, treasurer. Mr. Dudley Chamberlin was adviser.

Adviser Dudley Chamberlin was instrumental in bringing Hi-Y back to Mt. Pleasant High after a two-year absence.

Planning Y-Teen events are Sharon Bourland, secretary; Faye Lou Brasington, vice president; Judy Hall, president and Cecelia Watson, treasurer.

We Supplied the School With Friendship . . .

As Future Farmers and Homemakers . . .

It was hard to keep track of the many activities of the Future Homemakers of America this year. Their interests ranged from baking cakes for bake sales to enjoying parties with the Future Farmers of America. The girls also took part in a special FHA week set aside by Governor Williams.

The year's events began with a candlelight ceremony as the Shenandoah girls came here to install the Mt. Pleasant FHA officers.

The FHA girls got well acquainted this year with Miss Ruby Messers, a new teacher in our system and their adviser.

At last there were well arranged baskets of candy were sent to the children at the detention home.

"New Horizons Beckon" was the motto of the state conference at Grand Rapids which the club attended.

The second semester holds the memories of two roller skating parties, one with the FHA boys and one just for the girls.

By candle light new officers for the club were installed in May. Mothers of the girls attended as guests.

In the spring a new program was planned for next year.

The picnic with the FHA boys at Island Park topped but ended the fun for the year. Girls interested in joining FHA also attended the picnic.

We Look to the Future

Working hard but for a worthy cause this fall, the 50 Future Farmers of America finished the cable foot-bridge at the memorial school forest.

The FFA boys have gone on cattle buying tours and their livestock investments amount to approximately $12,000.

We Filled the School With Songs . . .

Singing more difficult music than ever before, the Mt. Pleasant High School choir and chorus received excellent ratings their second year in Class A competition.

Fifty-four voices blended into the M.P.H.S. chorus by Mr. Floyd Heydenburg provided a variety of fine music for the "Pops" Concert, Christmas Concert and assemblies for the elementary schools, District Festival in St. Louis, and springtime assemblies for the grades. Parents were invited to a program and reception planned in the spring by the chorus members. The group is made up of eighth and ninth graders.

Three outstanding vocal groups on a smaller scale than the choir and chorus are the Senior High Girls' Trio, Junior High Girls' Trio, and Boys' Quartet. The singers appeared before the Women's Club, Hospital Auxiliary, country school P.T.A. meeting, and at the Hi-Y Talent Show, Christmas Concert, and State and District Festivals.

Then came the District Festival at St. Louis, Student Council-sponsored assembly in May, and the State Massed Chorus Festival at East Lansing on May 7.

These Clubs Joined With Many Others During The Year

A newly-organized club this year, the Key Club was founded in the high school through the efforts of Mr. Arlie C. Osborn of the Kiwanis Club.

Sponsored by the Kiwanians, the organization has as its objective a better community and good school relations.

The darkroom magic of developing film, making enlargements, and printing pictures went into full swing after the cobwebs were brushed down last fall.

After being inactive for two years, the Camera Club made a comeback this year. Officers of the reinstated club are George Miller, president; Bill Fitzgerald, vice president; Terry Batchelder, secretary, and Milton Marks, treasurer. The faculty adviser is Mr. Arnold Koch.

We Learned by Doing

Working downtown while earning credit, forty members of the Co-op Club received training in retail, office, and trade roles.

The Employee-Employer Banquet, an annual event at the Hotel Chieftain, was enjoyed late in the spring. Members of the club invited their employers as their special guests for the evening as radio station WCEN broadcast the activities.

These People Planned Our New School Buildings

A wave of enthusiasm and planning followed the successful bond issue vote. Board of Education members, administration, faculty, students — all Mt. Pleasant — eagerly awaited construction of badly-needed classrooms. Above are busy board members (standing) E. Allan Morrow, trustee, L. W. Hartman, trustee, Malcolm McShea, treasurer, Russell LeComier, superintendent of schools, (seated) J. E. net Graham, president, Eugene Knight, vice president, Carl Wender, secretary, and Frances Martin, trustee. Below, plans become reality.

Signs of the times are excavations, being studied by MPHS girls in kilts, Bermuda shorts, and ducktail haircuts as bulldozers work at Pullen, Fancher.

Orientially garbed and filled to the brim with chop suey were the Mt. Pleasant teachers after the Chinese Dinner at Kinney School in February. For their next party, they rehearsed melodramas and novelty numbers for a talent show in Ganiard gym. The year ended with the annual spring picnic.

Familiar yellow school buses heading across the countryside on October 22 carted Isabella-Clare county teachers to the teachers conservation field trip. Activities of the day were centered around a visit to the Carter Ranch and the Rosebush Oil field. At noon they enjoyed a picnic at the roadside park north of Clare, and they also witnessed a fish shocking demonstration conducted by an instructor of conservation officers.
